KPJ Healthcare (KPJ MK)

Strategic Roadmap Intact Despite Leadership Transition

Highlights

- KPJ's five-year strategic plan, centred on brownfield expansion, remains firmly implemented by the current interim management team led by the group's Chief Medical Director.
- CoE expansion remains on track and should drive higher-acuity cases, a richer case mix and stronger revenue intensity.
- Maintain BUY and target price of RM3.85. We like KPJ for its inflection point of gestating hospitals and aggressive multi-year brownfield expansion.

Analysis

- KPJ Healthcare (KPJ) organised a briefing to update on its strategic priorities following the resignation of Chin Keat Chyuan (Chin) as President and Managing Director of KPJ Healthcare, effective 1 Sep 26. The briefing was anchored by Chief Medical Director Prof. Dato' Dr. Hanafiah Harunarashid, who stepped in as Officer-in-Charge, and Mohd Khairul Izzad (CFO).
- Loss of policy bridge. To recap, Chin resigned to pursue other interests. Beyond his direct corporate role, Chin also holds prominent industry governance positions, serving as Vice President of the Association of Private Hospitals of Malaysia (APHM). His leadership at APHM positioned KPJ directly at the policy table during critical discussions on Malaysia's transition to a Diagnosis-Related Group (DRG) payment model. While his exit removes a direct policy bridge with regulators during this implementation window, it does not derail KPJ's operational readiness, as internal DRG framework preparation, led by the group's CFO, remains well underway.
- Echoes of CEO churn but KPJ is on solid bedding. The series of brief CEO tenures preceding Chin – Ahmad Shahizam (Jul 20-Mar 22, ~20 months) and Datuk Mohd Shukrie Salleh (Apr 22-Sep 22, five months) – inevitably raises questions regarding long-term leadership continuity. Given that filling the CEO position prior to Chin's appointment required nearly a year-long search, finding a permanent successor may similarly involve an extended timeline without an immediate front-runner. Nonetheless, Chin's three-year tenure successfully addressed historical operational bottlenecks, established institutional stability, and formalised a structured roadmap via the Strategic Plan (2026-2030). This groundwork provides a solid foundation for Chief Medical Director Prof. Datuk Dr. Hanafiah Harunarashid as interim Officer-in-Charge, supporting a smooth operational transition.

Company Description

Malaysia's largest private hospital operator.

- KPJ's five-year strategic plan (2026-2030) remains a key priority. To recap, the strategic plan marks a shift from KPJ's traditional network of hospitals to an integrated health system focused on clinical excellence, research and education with an aim to deepen clinical capability and drive sustainable long-term earnings growth. Management assured that KPJ remains committed on executing the strategic plan, governed by the Board Executive Committee, with its target of 2,200-bed brownfield expansion and committed capex of RM4b-5b remain unchanged.
- CoE implementation is progressing well. KPJ's focus towards complex and specialised care through its COEs has been the key driver of operational growth, as evidenced by the rise in revenue intensity (+6.9% yoy) and inpatient volume (+9.7% yoy) in 2Q26. In particular, Johor Specialist Hospital's (JSH) Heart and Lung CoE has delivered improved revenue growth driven by higher case complexity. The two upcoming CoEs – JSH second COE (oncology) and KPJ Selangor (orthopedic) – are also on track for launch targeted by end-26.
- Healthcare tourism as a structural growth engine. KPJ recorded RM146m (+21% yoy) in healthcare tourism revenue in 1H26, accounting for 6.5% of its total revenue. Management remains positive on achieving full-year double-digit growth in revenue in this segment. KPJ is also looking to expand its patient base tapping into high growth emerging market such as Cambodia and the Middle East. While we remain positive on the segment as a structural growth engine for KPJ, given its relatively low penetration rate versus peers such as IHH (~15% of revenue) and Sunway Healthcare (~14%), we expect some near-term softness in medical tourist arrivals amid current higher logistic and travel costs.

Valuation/Recommendation

- Maintain BUY and target price of RM3.85, pegged to a PE of 36.8x, reflecting +1.5SD to its pre-pandemic five-year mean. Overall, we believe the near-term uncertainty surrounding management continuity should not derail KPJ's underlying fundamentals, with the strategic plan remaining firmly in place under the current management. That said, the pace of execution will be a key monitorable should the search for a permanent MD is prolonged.

We continue to like KPJ for its: a) strong execution capabilities, as exhibited by the record gestation of KPJ Kuala Selangor; b) inflection point of gestating hospitals; c) aggressive multi-year brownfield expansion that is margin accretive; and d) highly domesticated and defensive shield against uncertain externalities.

Earnings Revision/Risk

- No changes to earnings. Key downside risks include: a) tightening of regulatory policy, b) slow progress in executing the expansion plan, and c) inability to pass on operating cost increases to customers.

Public Bank

(PBK MK/HOLD/RM5.00/Target: RM5.54)

Acquires Remaining Stake In Hong Kong Outfit

Highlights

- Privatises Hong Kong outfit. Public Bank announced the acquisition of the remaining 27% stake in Public Financial Holdings Limited (PFHL) in Hong Kong for HK$2.50/share, implying a cash outlay of around RM380m.
- Highly niche lending franchise in Hong Kong. PFHL operates a differentiated credit portfolio across three core segments: a) consumer finance and personal lending, through Public Finance Limited, focused on higher-yield unsecured personal, tax and salary loans; b) property mortgage financing, through Public Bank (Hong Kong), covering residential and commercial property loans; and c) taxi and public light-bus financing, through Winton Group, a specialised asset-backed business financing taxi licences, minibuses and commercial vehicles. This gives PFHL a distinctive niche lending franchise spanning higher-yield consumer credit, property financing and specialised commercial vehicle lending.
- Immaterial financial impact to Public Bank group. While the offer price represents a 60% premium to the last traded price, the transaction remains undemanding on book value at just 0.35x P/B, albeit against a meagre ~1% ROE, but expensive on earnings at >30x PE. The acquisition is immaterial to the group, accounting for just 0.1% of Public Bank's total assets, while the incremental earnings contribution from the remaining stake is estimated at only 0.1% of group earnings.
- Strategic rationale. Strategically, management's key rationale for privatising PFHL is to eliminate the ongoing compliance and administrative costs associated with maintaining its listed status, particularly given the stock's relatively poor trading liquidity. Over the longer term, owning 100% of PFHL could also provide the group with greater strategic flexibility to facilitate a potential disposal of the business, in our view, potentially enabling Public Bank to command a higher valuation premium for the asset.
- Potential for capital optimisation? PFHL is very well capitalised, with a CET1 ratio of 27%, significantly above the Hong Kong banking sector average of 14% and at the upper end of its mid-sized peers operating in similar niche lending segments. For comparison, its closest peer, Dah Sing Banking Group, has a CET1 ratio of 19%, while other mid-sized banking groups typically maintain CET1 ratios of around 23%. PFHL's recent loan growth has remained largely flat to slightly contractionary, with management opting to deploy surplus liquidity into highly secure but low-yielding cash placements and sovereign instruments rather than aggressively expanding its loan book, which is one of the reasons behind its elevated CET1 ratio. In our view, this leaves scope for PFHL to optimise its excess capital towards peer levels. Assuming CET1 is reduced to around 20%, broadly in line with the mid- to small-sized bank peer average, we estimate this could potentially release c.RM414m of excess capital for upstreaming to Public Bank, equivalent to an additional 0.4% dividend yield.

Valuations and Recommendation.

- Maintain HOLD and target price of RM5.54 (1.74x 2027F P/B, ROE: 13.1%). We view the transaction as broadly neutral to Public Bank group at this juncture, with the potential to turn slightly positive should PFHL's excess capital be upstreamed to the group in the future. That said, with Public Bank's current dividend yield, including potential special dividends, broadly in line with peers, we see a balanced risk-reward profile at current levels and maintain our HOLD recommendation. We would advise investors to accumulate below RM5.00, where the risk-reward becomes more compelling.
